in Profile

In these one hundred-eighty pages we'd like to present a samplar of what makes St. Joseph's a great school. We have tried to be selective, including only the best we have to offer in pictures, copy and layouts.

St. Joseph's is from one point of view unique in South Bend, since it's the only "co-institutional" school. It has a first-rate faculty, selected students, excellent order and a scholastic rating second to none. Eighty-three percent of St. Joseph's graduates attend college, and the school rates third in the nation in numbers of students admitted to Notre Dame.

In its excellent social and sports record, St. Joseph's can hold its head high in the best of company.

Hanging lanterns, Chinese parasols and a bamboo bridge over a lily pond set an oriental atmosphere for the 1966 Junior Prom. The theme was "Eden of the East" and the entrance was through a blossomed arch.

From nine until midnight, couples enjoyed the music of the "Softwinds". The highlight of the evening was the crowning of King Tom Ruszkowski and Queen Sharon Bradakis.

"Eden of the East" was planned by Tom Ruszkowski and Linda Paskiet, general chairmen, with the assistance of Brother Daniel Kane and Sister Victor.

Soc Hops Favorite Book Break

Besides the Autograph Dance and the Freshman Mixer, which are traditional, the school sponsored many informal dances. At the beginning of the year the Student Council sponsored a "trial run" dance to test attendance.

During the basketball season, dances were held after home games and lasted until 11:30. The rest of the year dances terminated a half-hour earlier.

Bands that proved popular were "The Cambridge Five", "M R Q's", "Traces of Time" and the "One-I'd-Jacks."

Combos Rock Gym At Annual Talent Show

St. Joseph's Student Senate presented its annual Talent Show in April. Preliminary judging whittled thirty acts down to eleven finalists.

Acts were judged on quality of performance, audience appeal, appearance and comportment. Sister Mirial Edwards, Brother Evan Schmidt and Miss Patricia Harvey were judges.

First place went to Tom Przestwor, while accordionist John Trok took second. Singer Celia Backer, with the Wally James orchestra, won third prize.

FOLK-SINGING QUINTET, "The Jongleurs", render their composition "Rain, Rain". Singers are Maureen Riley, Kathy Rys, Melissa McCauslin, Joanne Snellgrove, and Cheryl Doroff.

Academics in Profile

The academic year records many memories: frivolity before class, the anguish of taking a test, the dismay or exhaltation of a returned grade!

To some students a school is totally academic—from the burr of the first bell to the last. It's only a chance to learn, learn, learn! There's hardly any joy in it.

For others the most important of the day's endeavors is not the class, but the work thereafter—the homework, whether it be a theme to write, a chapter to read in history, or a page of problems to be worked in math.

Whatever the case, we know that in class or out, our main scholastic purpose is to better ourselves mentally, without however forgetting the moral, social and physical aspects that help make us complete men.

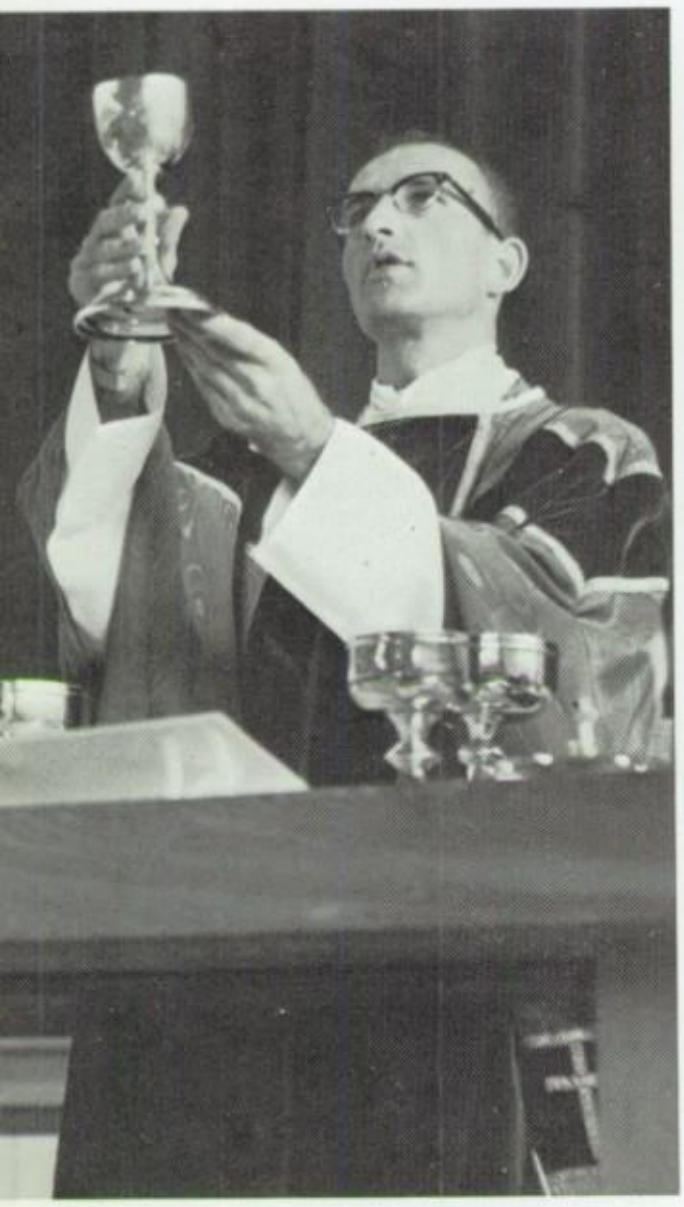
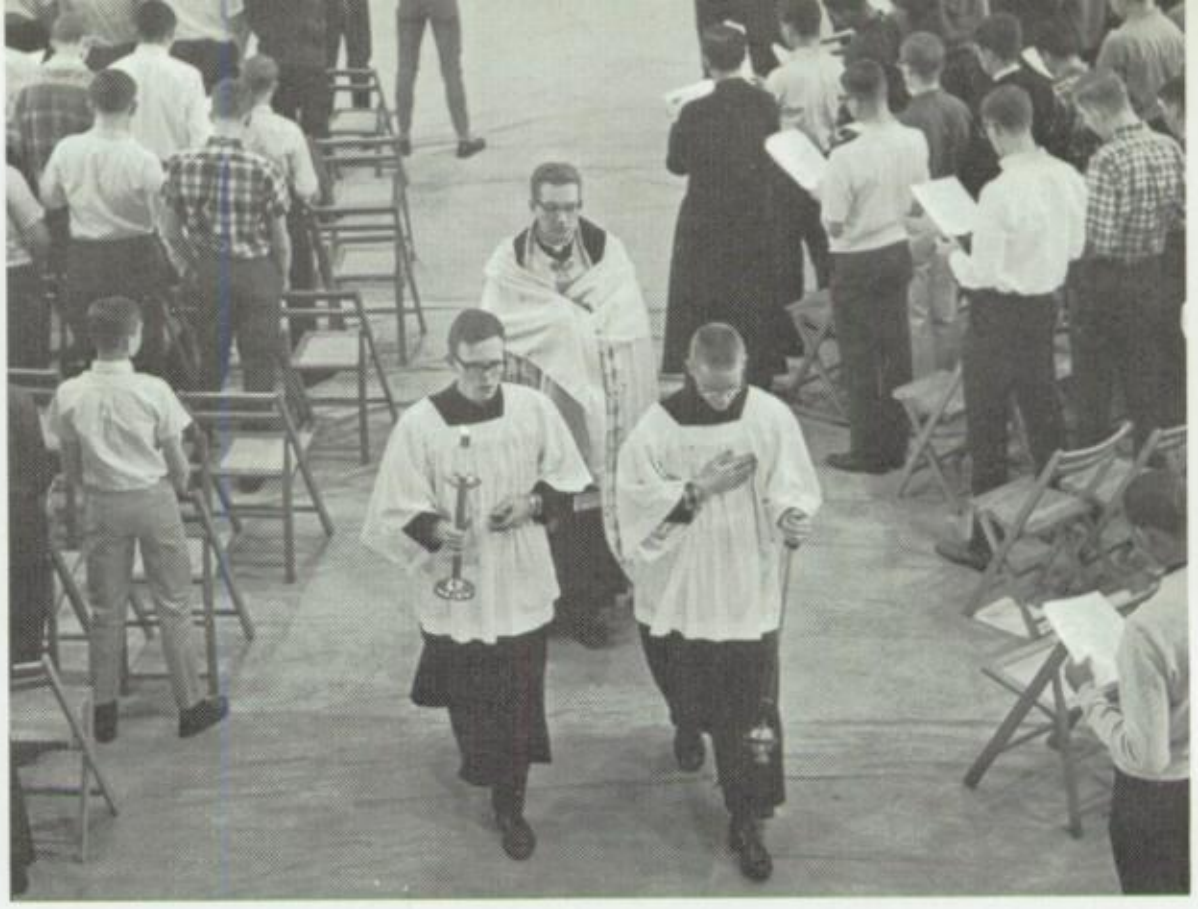
Vatican II Inaugurates Liturgical Renewal

Articles from certain periodicals were used in some religion classes to stimulate discussions on current problems. The religion text series remained the same, but was orientated by teachers toward the effects of the Ecumenical Council.

The value of personal involvement in social activities such as youth organizations, charity groups, and community projects was stressed.





RECESSIONAL FOLLOWING MASS—Father Kline returns the Blessed Sacrament to its repository. Mike Jester and Tim Hoyer are the servers.

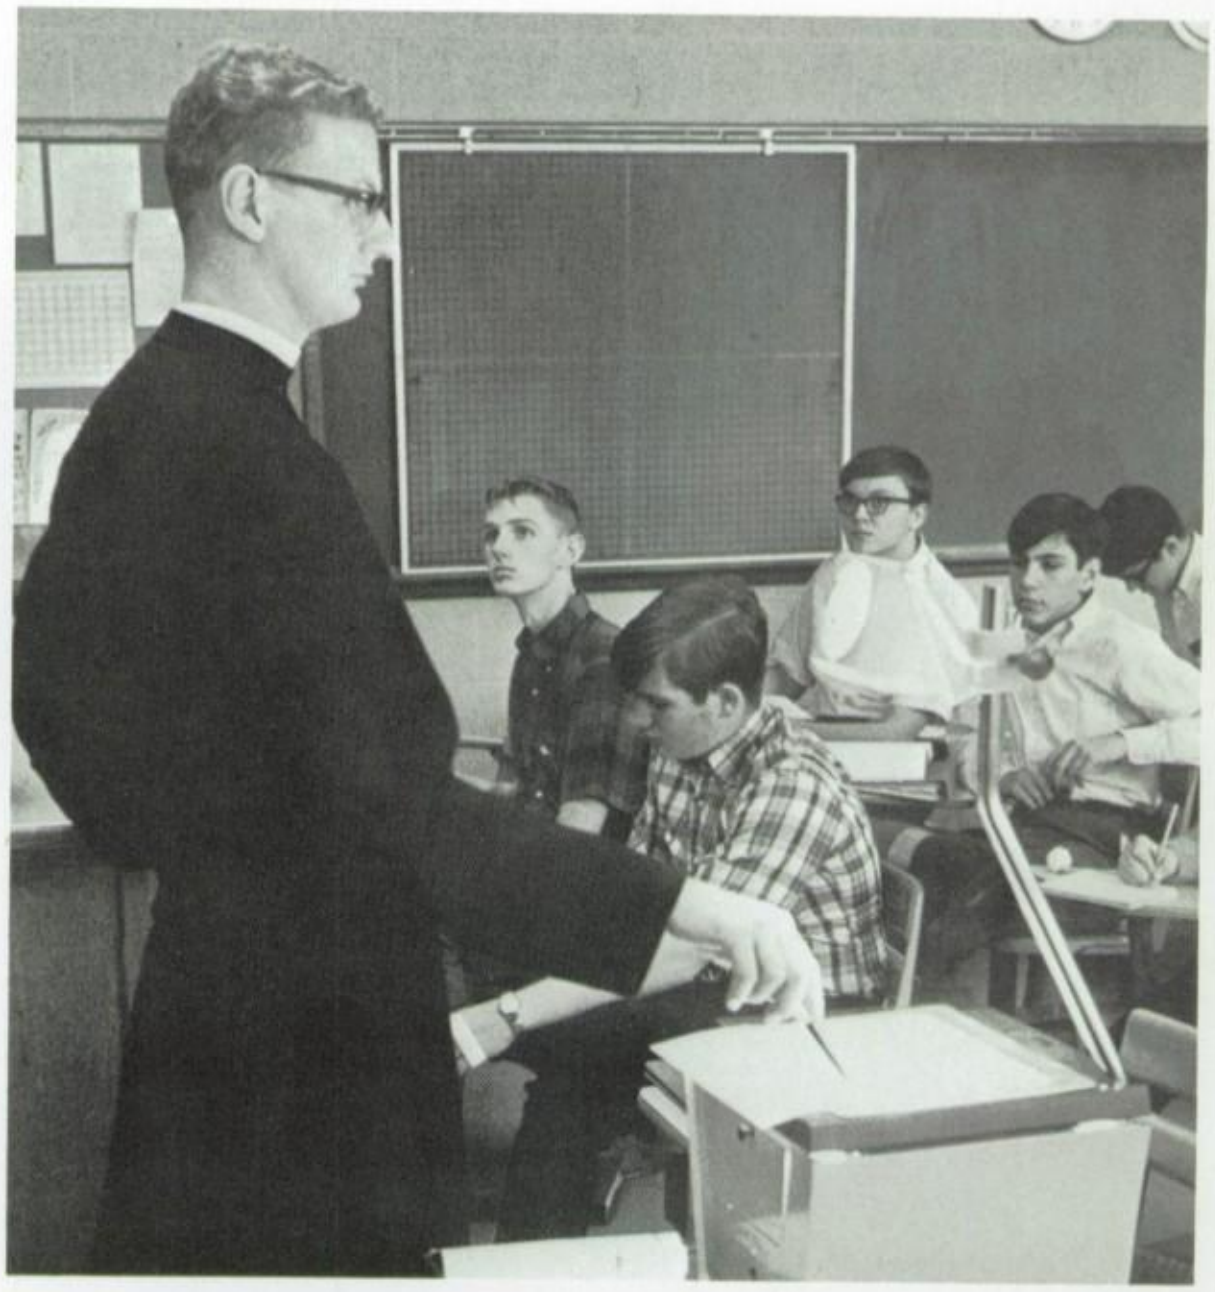
Daily Application Requisite in Math

Despite continuing efforts to modernize both sections of the math department, especially through the use of visual aids, there were no major changes effected this year.

Mr. Guentert, the math chairman, attempted to have the same series of texts in both departments, but was unsuccessful. Standardized tests were introduced as a much-needed improvement. Through them St. Joseph's students could be compared nationally.

Advanced classes for college-bound students ranged from Advanced Math to Pre-Calculus. In the general course a choice from High School Math to Senior Math was offered.



ADVANCED ALGEBRA'S COMPLEXITIES are rendered more comprehensible by Brother Alan with the use of an overhead projector.

Pupils Troubled by Own Language

Two major faculty changes took place in the English Department this year. New faculty members, Sister Mary Antoinette and Brother Gerard Mason took over the chairmanship of their respective departments.

The study of film-making was introduced into the junior and senior girls' English classes. Emphasis was placed on paperbacks and the main text was the Ginn Anthology, which all classes except the seniors used.

In the boys' department, the curriculum included outside readings, vocabulary and creative writing. Development of the styles and moods of different writings was discussed.

Spanish Joins Three Year Circle

For the first time foreign languages at St. Joseph's were organized into a department. It includes all language teachers of the school and Brother Anton is chairman.

French and Spanish have grown steadily in popularity and this year St. Joseph's had five teachers and twenty sections of these modern languages. Miss Konrath in French and Mr. Febres in Spanish were new to the department.

There is no language lab; however, the idea of pressing for one was discussed at department meetings.

Current Events Analyzed in History

Social Studies from both the boys' and girls' sections were combined into a single department with Brother Wilbert as the chairman. As a result, members of both faculties may now discuss common teaching methods.

Another addition to the department was a collection of visual aids: films, filmstrips, overhead projectors, etc.

Current affairs were emphasized in class, which required students to use paperbacks and magazines as well as the text. Time and Newsweek were particularly popular.

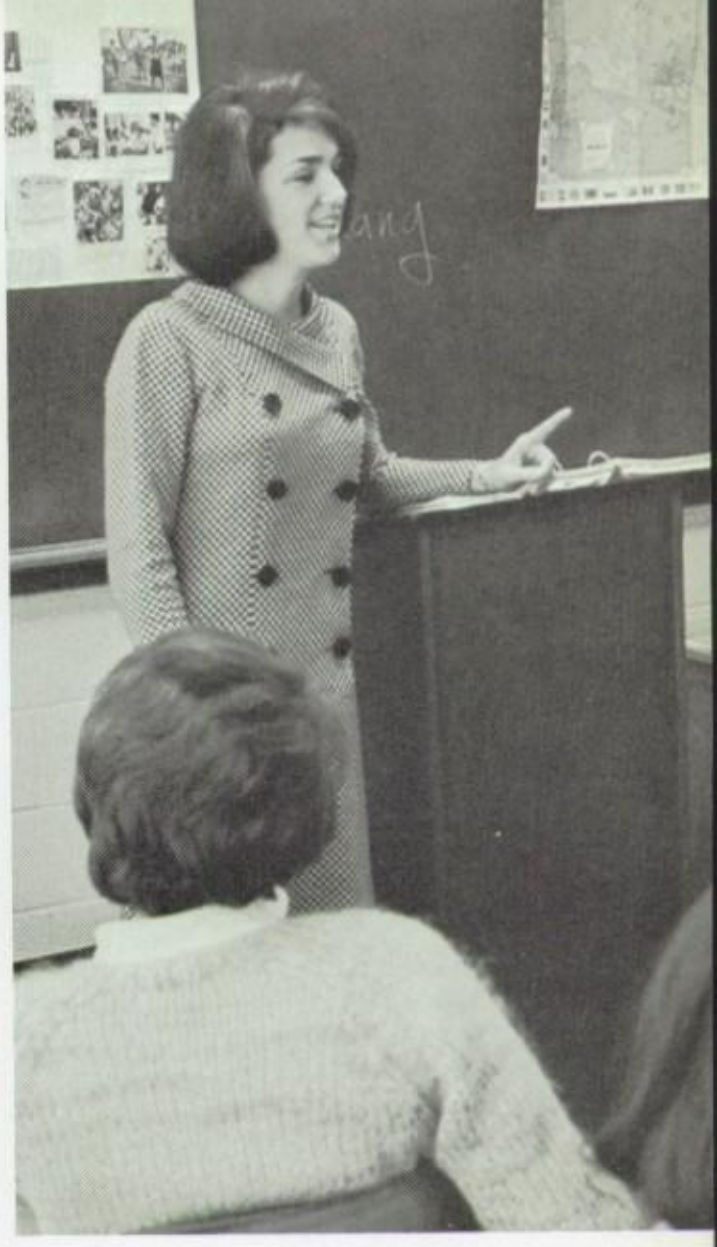
USING A POSTER, Missi Barth illustrates some ideas concerning American family life. The class, Western Culture, is taught by Mrs. Reichart.



"CONFUCIUS WAS ALSO HUMOROUS," indicates Mrs. Reichart in a lecture to her Western Culture class on the great Chinese philosopher.

"BUT THESE CIVIL DUTIES must be considered," elaborates Brother Roy in answer to a question in his American Government class.

UNDER THE EXPERT DIRECTION of Brother Daniel Kane, the chorus practices a concert number. This group includes only the juniors and senior classes.

Choral Groups Expand Cultural Horizons

St. Joseph's chorus, with 171 members, is the largest cultural club and has three divisions: the junior-senior glee club, the junior-senior chorus, and the freshman-sophomore chorus.

Now in its third year under the direction of Brother Daniel Kane, the chorus was changed from a three to a five-day class because of its increased membership.

A program in November, a Christmas concert and a spring program were presented to the student body. The latter two presentations were open to the public.

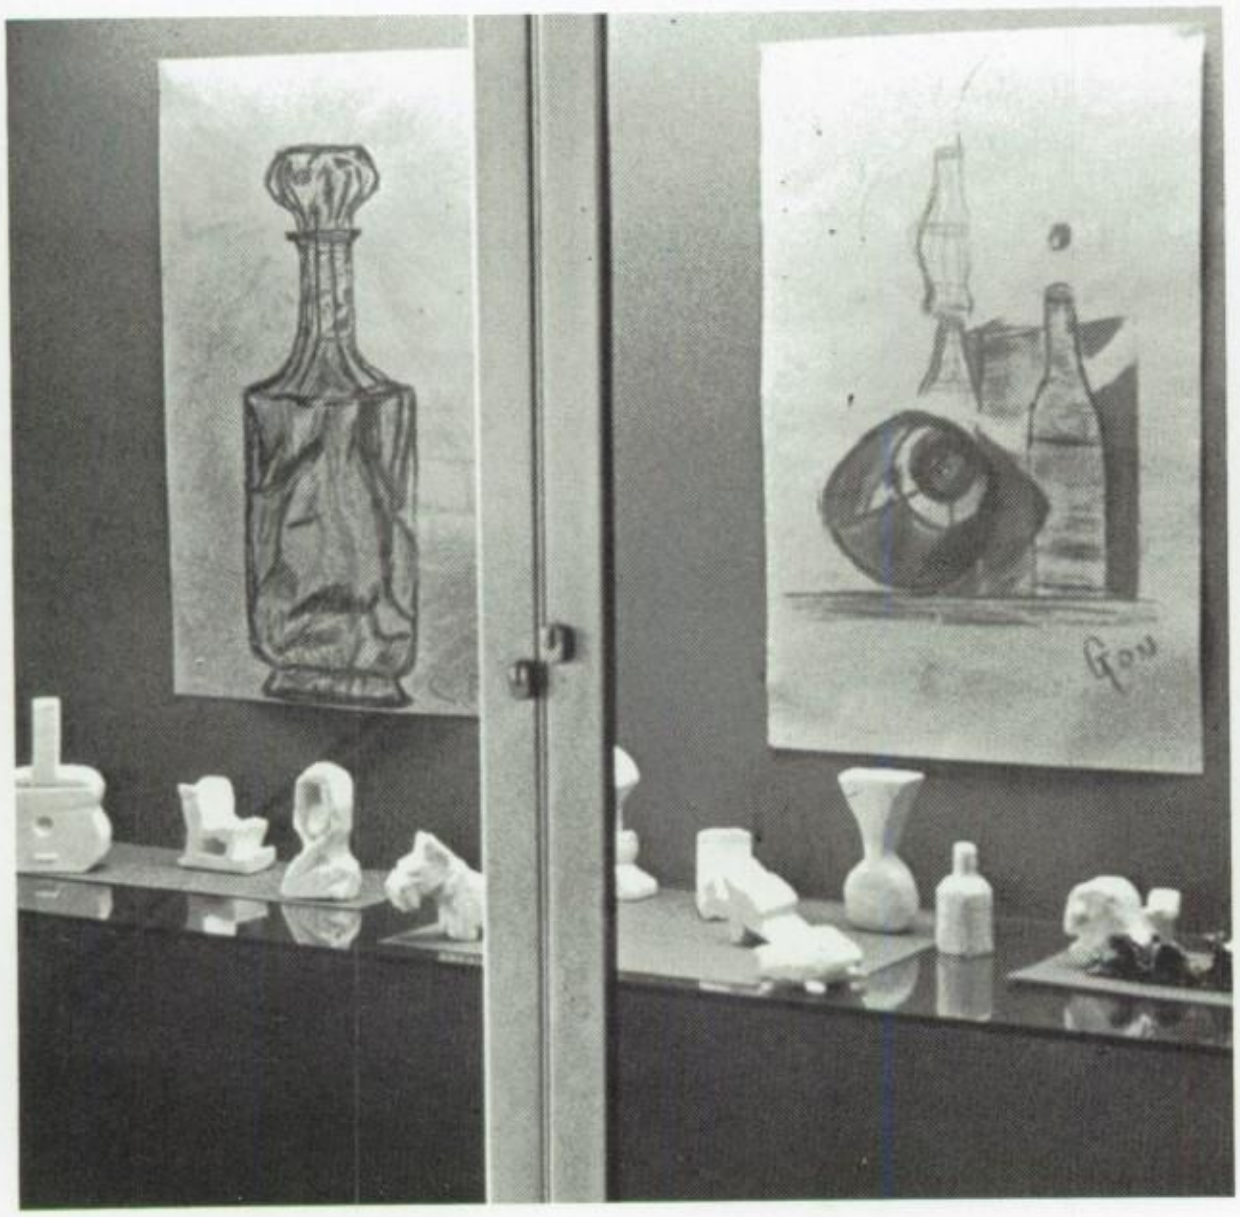
Fine Arts Develop Students' Talents

Fine Arts, previously an extracurricular club, was changed into classes for junior and senior girls. Taught by Sister Vincent Ferrer, these classes attempted an appreciation of the arts. Guest lecturers spoke on music, mythology, architecture and magic. Tickets were available to the various concerts about the city, and trips were made to art galleries at Notre Dame and Chicago.



A BIT OF SOCERY in a whirl of cards pleases Father Blantz. He presents his bag of magic tricks to the Fine Arts class.

Frogs, Fission, and Formulas Explored

Modernization of St. Joseph's science labs was the primary job of Sister Victor, chairman of the Science Department. Three stereoscopes and a Carousel projector were purchased for the Biology Department and four precision scales were acquired for the Chemistry Department.

Lectures were also scheduled to be given throughout the year by Indiana Visiting Scientists Program.

Physical Science was made available to the boys for the first time in several years.

ATTENTION IS RIVETED to a glass-bending experiment by Sister Victor. Chemistry students are Karen Leliaert, Pam Kaniewski, Jan Loebach, Leona Miller.

Scientific Projects Display Ingenuity

Observation, study and experimentation contributed to the success of the St. Joseph's Science Fair. Under the sponsorship of Mr. Michael Janowski, participants did research in several fields.

Jim Lies and Calen Chrzan won first prize in physics for their "Instrument Landing System". In biology, the "Effects of Water Conditions on Tropical Fish" by Phil Pritts won first place. The mathematics award was given to Diane Snellgrove and Kathy Makielski for proving determinants. Tom Macri took a blue ribbon with a fuel cell display in chemistry.

AIMING A SHOTGUN MIKE, Tom Rutzkowski tries to tune in the conversation of a friend. Tom's accomplice is Ron Rzepnicki.

Futures Readied Through Arts

This year, two new subjects were offered in practical arts: Business Arithmetic in the boys' department and Home Management in the girls' department. New texts were needed for General Business but all others were from the same series. Textiles and Meal Planning were included as new subjects in Clothing and Foods, respectively.

Journalism, the only combined class in practical arts, was limited to seniors this year, but next year it will be opened to all interested students. This year, the class published three papers and scheduled lectures by the South Bend Tribune staff members.

Awards and Diplomas Climax Year

Formerly scholastic honors were presented one evening in May, the evening making it possible for parents to attend. As of this year an all-school Honors Assembly was considered to benefit most people.

Dr. Alex Jardine, former Superintendant of the local School Corporation, was guest speaker with an address called "The American Gift of Education".

Maurice Norman and Carol Dulcet were named as the valedictorians of the class of '66. Certificates, plaques, medals, and scholarship—all kinds of honors were presented to deserving students.

SCHOLASTIC HONOR CERTIFICATES are awarded by Father Vrabely to seniors Tom Couvrens, Andrew Domonkos, Carl Dyszkiewicz and Lee Gloster. Brother James keeps the list of recipients in order.

VARIED AND CANDID are the reactions of Bob Kent, Ted Jusczak, Vic Jagmin, John Hoover, and Dennis Helmer to a witticism of main speaker at Honor's Day.

Activities in Profile

To be happy at St. Joseph's, a student must have academic achievement as his principal interest. But academics alone will not make a full man. Not the least of these other and necessary things are extra-curriculars, especially for most students, the non-sports organizations.

At St. Joseph's these activities number twenty-three, thus offering a rich choice to even the most discriminating student.

Returns are great for those who give of themselves to these activities. There's a sense of unity with others in the group, of pride in doing a job well. There's a lesson in responsibility, for one learns to direct without being bossy and to work cheerfully with fellow students. Extra-curriculars are informative, socially rewarding and fun.

Band Enlivens School Spirit

With the introduction of the seven-period day, band sessions were changed from before school to the sixth period.

The thirty-three member band was under the direction of Sister M. Celena, head of the Instrumental Dept. at St. Mary's College. Brother Lewis Brazil directed the "pep band" at games and assemblies.

Members Display Enthusiasm for Spanish Lingo

A new-comer among language clubs, the Spanish Club, provided an informal atmosphere for classroom-learned knowledge. Projects of the Club included the translating of a "Peanuts" book into Spanish, sponsoring a city-wide dance and organizing a soccer team to compete with other teams in the city. Señor Eleo Febres, club moderator, conducted the bi-weekly meetings.

FRENCH CLUB OFFICERS are Lynn Kapusta, treasurer; Linda Paskiet, vice-president; Mary Jane Wojciechowski, president; and Frances Nyers, secretary.

Skits Highlight Latin and French Activities

Sister Berenice, moderator of the French Club, believes that sociability is the main reason for organizing a club. At meetings members participated in skits and games. Club pins were also available for those who wished to buy them.

At Latin Club meetings, emphasis was placed on the study of Greek and Latin mythology. Movies and plays depicting elements of classical culture were presented also. Sister Rosalima was the club moderator.

Wednesday Magic Day for Missions

Moderators Brother Roy Smith and Sister Antoinette guided the Mission Club toward its goal of creating a mission-minded student body.

In addition to the regular weekly homeroom collections, the Mission Club sponsored the stamp drive to educate foreign students, dressed and distributed toy dolls to needy children at Christmas, and sold corsages at football homecoming.

Folk Music Enthusiasts Organize Club

The club divided into small groups, practiced privately with a guitarist, and presented their numbers publicly when they were ready.

Outside groups that entertained at guest performances for the club were "The Coachmen" and "Brothers Four Plus One".

Brother Daniel Kane and Sister Vincent Ferrer were club moderators.

N.H.S. Noted for Social Contributions

Membership in the National Honor Society, the greatest honor that St. Joseph's can bestow on a student, is determined by scholarship, leadership, character and service.

The National Honor Society sponsored Careers Night for students to obtain information about college and also conducted a tutoring program and classes on the slide rule.

DEBATE MODERATOR Brother Daniel Bengert lines up meets with the aid of his staff's suggestions.

Acquisition of the art of rhetoric through research, logical planning and analysis was the goal of the Debate Club this year.

The varsity debate team competed in six St. Joseph Valley League tournaments and with other teams throughout the state including Lafayette, Kokomo and Gary.

Intramural debaters met after school to practice their delivery and at the end of the year a double-elimination tournament was held in which new debaters were paired with experienced members.

The club consisted of thirty members: ten varsity, eight subvarsity and twelve beginners. Brother Daniel Bengert, the club moderator, has coached the club for five years.

Student Council Directs Mexican Clothing Drive

Combining the boys and girls senates to form a student council was a major change this year.

Under the direction of Brother Paschal, the Council sponsored food and clothing drives and organized the student directory. One of the most successful activities was a Xmas drive for the Mexican-American migrant workers.

Future Professions Influenced by Guest Speakers and Movies

Trips to Niles Laboratory and Indiana U were important projects for the Future Doctors Club this year. A wide variety of medical films and guest lecturers were also helpful in discovering different aspects of the medical profession.

Junior and senior girls interested in the field of teaching were able to investigate that field through films and lectures sponsored by the Future Teachers Club. The club attended local conventions and the annual spring convention in Indianapolis.

Mary Reddy was the president of the club and Sister Miriam Roberts was the moderator.

Aspirants Learn Professional Career Standards

SECRETARIAL CLUB MEMBERS are Mary Baranowski, Sue Seifert, Phyllis Suth, Debbie Towner.

Typing and shorthand are necessary for membership in the Secretarial Club.

The club, whose members are selected by the faculty, invited guest speakers to talk on various aspects of secretarial work.

Debbie Towner was the president and the moderator was Sister Marie Jeanne.

Lectures by a representative of Alcoholics Anonymous, a registered nurse and a dental hygienist proved very informative to the Health Careers Club this year.

Consisting of about 35 members, the club was open to all girls interested in medical professions.

Miss Wixted was the club moderator and the president was Marcia Barna.

Hi-Way Rated No. 1 in Indiana

From the first day of school to the end of February, the HI-WAY staff, headed by editor Dave Jaworski, worked without let up to produce the '67 HI-WAY. Deadlines came every five weeks with about fifty pages due each time.

The '66 HI-WAY was rated a "strong A" by N.S.Y.A. and took first place for the state of Indiana in the National High School Yearbook Contest.

Hi-Lite Improves Rating

Published monthly and under the supervision of Sister Eugenia, the HI-LITE adopted many changes in its content. The major change consisted in the addition of a two-page literary section featuring student-written poems, essays and short stories. Also introduced were "Famous Last Words," favorite sayings of teachers and "Can You Imagine," good-natured mocks on students and things around school.

The National Scholastic Press Association recently awarded the HI-LITE a "B" rating.

Athletics in Profile

Athletics are important to a school. They benefit both the athlete and the spectator. We don't mean "spectator" in a static sense, that is, one who "just watches". We mean a true fan, one who participates in spirit, who possesses all the characteristics of a good athlete—except that he just doesn't play.

A true St. Joe sports fan has pride in his team, is willing to sacrifice his time and money for it, to defend it. He rejoices in its victories and swallows defeats with proud reluctance.

We like sports at St. Joe. We find them exciting, and we feel that they add an important shift of interest from things academic. Sports give us "good times," help us develop a sense of unity with fellow students, help us love our school more.

New Coaches Inaugurate Winning Season

Because of sweeping changes in the coaching staff, there was some question as to the success of the 1966 football season. The record of 6 and 4 belies the team's achievements. Only Kokomo won by more than one touchdown.

Of the defensive team the most consistent players were Chris Bogunia, Ron Rzepnicki, Greg Igaz, and Larry Zima.

The offense was quarterbacked by Mike Peiffer and featured looping passes to end Craig Stark. Jim Brunette was particularly effective on outside runs and Paul Czosnowski on belts up the middle.

FOOTBALL EQUIPMENT MANAGERS are Paul Nowak, Ken Odynski, Joe Dillon, and Bob Weil.

Coach Bob Donewald tried desperately to stem the tide of a 4—15 season. Mobility characterized the lineup, with many combinations being used. The biggest hindrance to a winning season, however, was the lack of height and experience. Of the eleven varsity members on last year's team, only Paul Fredlake returned.

Footballers Jim Brunette and Mike Peiffer, who joined the team late, were the anchormen for the Indians. Jim was the team's high scorer and rebounder.

Besides Mike Peiffer, Dave Goulet was also brought up from the "B" Team and was a consistent performer.

Track Gains Support of Students

Head Coach Neil McLaughlin directed the track team to a record of eight wins and five losses, not including a first place in the Chesterton Relays and a second place in the Penn Relays.

Leading the team in scoring was Terry Smith with 116 points. Craig Stark and his brother Dave held second and third places with 115 and 90 points respectively.

Mike Siwek was the shot-put specialist, and Brian Van-De Walle was outstanding in pole vaulting, receiving 40 points and a ninth place in total points scored.

Narrow Deficits Mar Campaign

St. Joseph's baseball team had trouble with clutch games, losing five by one or two runs. The record under Coach Terry Rose was 5 and 8.

Pitching hitting, and fielding were excellent, but the fault was timeliness in hitting. Mike Futa and Mark Pajakowski were the most effective pitchers, throwing a total of 72 strikeouts.

ENTHUSIASM! . . . Jim Brunette tries to infect his teammates with his own spirit.

PURE MAYHEM—typical of St. Joseph's intramural basketball is this bit of uninhibited contact as exhibited by the "Exits" and the "Horny Toads".

Names and Uniforms Highlight Intramurals

Although intramurals must include the phy ed classes and minor sports, the big competitive accent was on basketball.

Some forty teams participated in a junior and senior division. Games of 25 minutes length—with no timeouts or foul shots—were played mornings and evenings. A divisional playoff was held at an all-student assembly.

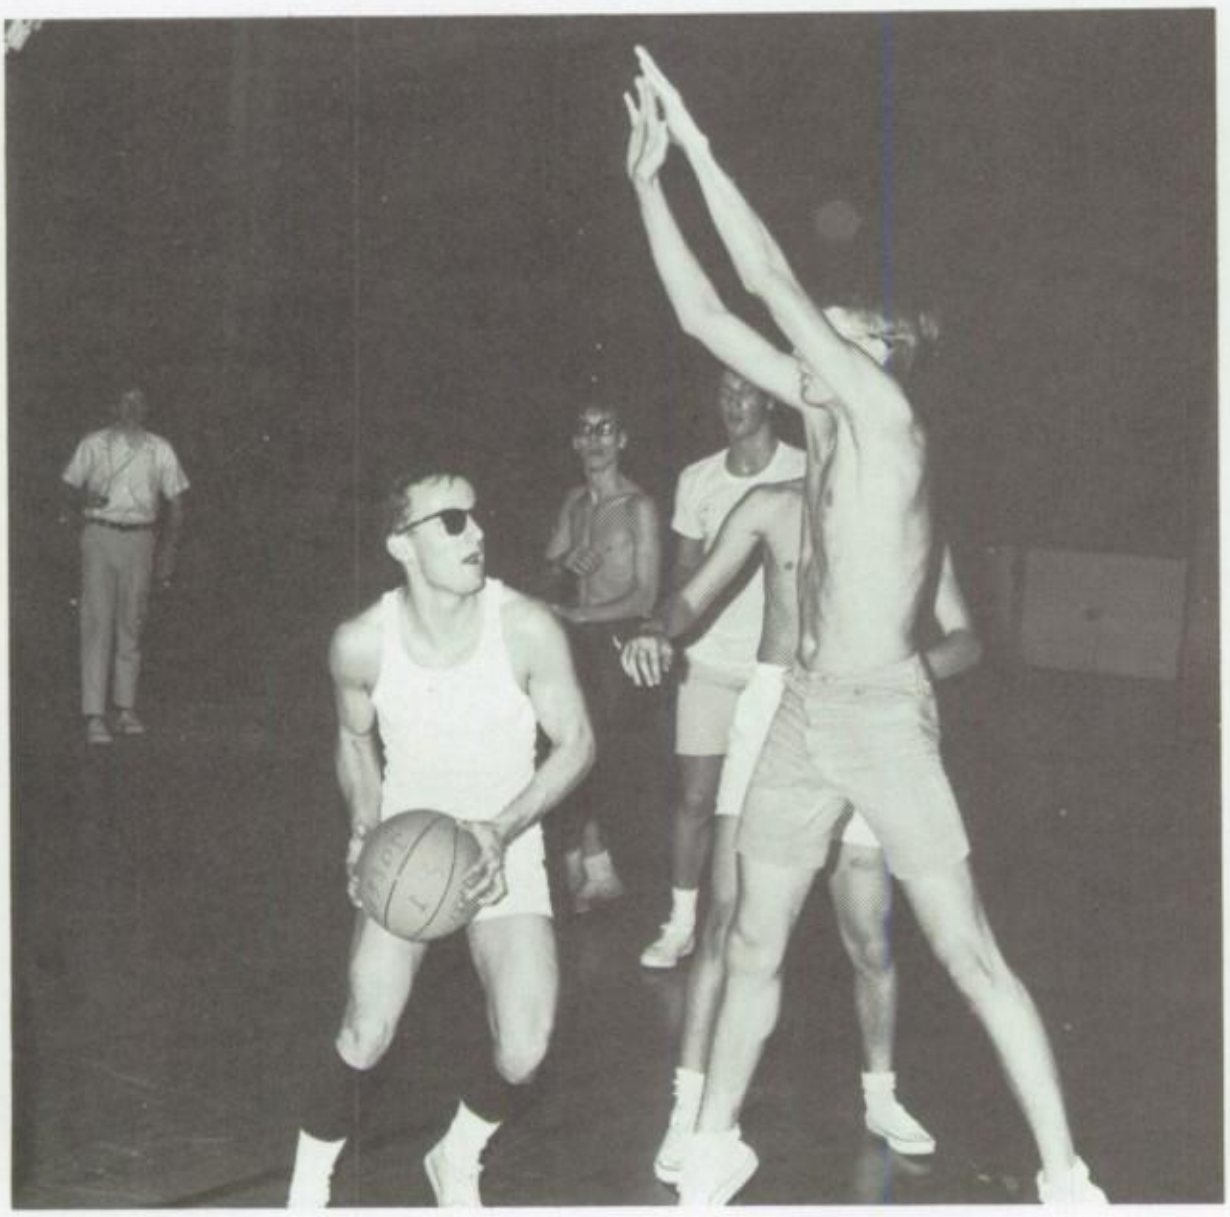
OOF!—Mike Hazen seems to be reacting to a whack in the ribs. Be that as it may, the rebound comes his way.



CLOSED DOOR—Bill Gross, sun glasses and all, finds his way to a shot blocked by Jeff Wiseman's raised arms.

SLICE THE SLICER!—that's the cry as enthusiastic students, in an informal pep rally, try to animate the footballers at a practice session. End Craig Stark is about to pull in a pass.

Informal Rallies Grow In Favor

Each class, except the freshmen, was responsible for both a football and a basketball assembly. These were usually held before games with important city rivals.

Guest speakers included Coach McArdle from Notre Dame, and footballers Alan Page and Jim Seymour.

A new idea, the outdoor informal assembly, greatly stimulated school spirit before the Laporte and Washington football games.

Gym Classes Aided by Student Assistants

Formerly, girls gym classes concentrated on calisthenics and dance routines with the intention of toning the muscles and aiding poise. This year, new gym teacher, Mrs. Stanley, felt that her classes needed athletic competition. She introduced indoor sports as a regular part of the program. Mrs. Stanley also had the girls run laps to start a class.

Gym aids, junior and senior student helpers, was also a new idea of Mrs. Stanley.

Lettermen Assist at Athletic Functions

Supervision and coordination of athletic events was the major function of the Monogram Club this year. Club members ushered at basketball games and served as escorts at the football and basketball homecomings. Other activities included running the clock at freshman basketball games and setting up hurdles and chalking the lines before track meets.

Great Books Members Revel in Literary Discussions

A STUDY IN CONCENTRATION—Lynne Douglas, Sheryl Doruff, Jeff DeBeck, and Fred Gill give their full attention to a discussion of "The Art of Loving" by Erich Fromm.

The Great Books Club, now in its second year of organization and under the supervision of Brother Gerard Mason, was for juniors and seniors who wished to read books for enjoyment and discussion.

Meetings were held once a month and books discussed included significant works in philosophy, literature, science, history, fine arts, and theology. The club was divided into ten discussion groups with five religious and five lay leaders.

Faculty members assisting Brother Gerard as discussion leaders were Brothers Daniel Bengert and Thomas Matthes, and Sisters Eugenia and Antoinette.

CONSTERNATION!—Great Books members can't restrain grins at Andy Kuzmitz's embarrassment. Discussion leader Mrs. Mary McCarthy has asked him to open the meeting with an informal prayer.

Personalities In Profile

This year 1208 students made up the student body at St. Joseph's. As a whole, St. Joseph's personality was one of spirit and loyalty. Each student possessed his own unique personality, each one remembered was remembered by particular traits.

Personalities and Dispositions Developed by Administrative Guidance

No major changes occurred in the administration at St. Joseph's. Father Vrabely continued as diocesan supervisor. This was the fourth year for Brother James Linscott as principal and the second year for Sister Robertina as vice-principal.

The proportion of religious to laymen on the faulty was about 2:1, with 18 sisters and 20 brothers to 21 laymen.

School policy has been, as Father Vrabely puts it, "adaptive" in the face of constant changes. St. Joseph's enrollment has leveled off at 1150 and will probably remain constant because of new city school buildings.

Juniors Qualify To Enter Into National Honor Society Ranks

The Junior Class answered the new responsibilities of upperclassmen by taking a more active part in athletic and social activities and striving for scholastic improvement.

Under the direction of Sister Miriam Robert and Brother Alan Rommelfanger, the juniors sponsored the Laporte football assembly and two basketball assemblies, including the Homecoming against Washington.

The PSAT and National Merit Scholarship tests were taken in preparation for college and juniors also placed athletes on the varsity teams.

DOWN WITH THE SLICERS—Bob Kobek leads some yells in an informal assembly just before the destruction of the Laporte effigy.

Sophomores Look to Junior Year and Upper-classmen Status

Three assemblies, one for football and two for basketball, were staged. The third one terminated "Spirit Week" and featured a skit about loyalty.

To help push school spirit, the Sophomores sported wide navy-blue ties and printed buttons bearing the legend "Back your school".

As a more personal activity, the sophs held a "class day" that featured bunco, a dinner and a dance.

Freshman Class Initiates School Spirit Week

Accomplishments of the freshmen included the annual mixer and class elections. Freshmen rejuvenated school spirit by initiating a "Spirit Week" and also comprised about one-half of the school band.

To each class, the end of a school year means something different. For the underclassman, it means another stride taken toward graduation. To the senior, it means the end of one kind of life and the beginning of another, one of more responsibility and harder work.

But every class remembers the things that have made 1966-67 the way it was. A stronger surge of school spirit, new coaches to guide the teams, the arrival of the class pictures and rings, "Senior Day", and the formal dances were just a few special things to remember.

We of the HI-WAY staff hope that we have presented the highlights of the year in clear language and with graphic images, images to be remembered and repeatedly enjoyed.
